HOUSE PASSES PENSION WARRANT BILL

HOUSE VOTED 109 TO 13 FOR PLAN IN CONTINUING CHECKS

SENATE CONFIRMED LIQUOR BOARD NOMINATIONS BY GOVERNOR ALLRED

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—(P)—The house of representatives passed today and sent to the senate a bill to continue old age pension payments the remainder of the year through issuance of interest-bearing warrants.

Governor Allred had recommended that deficiency warrants be issued to meet pension needs until the treasury began receiving money from new tax measures expected to be approved at the current special session.

The chief executive earlier had suggested that $3,000,000 of highway revenues be diverted but neither house had shown any inclination to approve that proposal.

Rep. Clarence Farmer of Fort Worth sought to offer investment of $3,000,000 of highway funds in pension warrants as an amendment to the warrant bill, but Speaker Coke Stevenson held the amendment was not germane.

The speaker did not rule on another point of order that the farmer proposal was unconstitutional. He previously had expressed the opinion that diversion of highway funds would be violative of the constitution but admitted that farmer's investment proposal was somewhat different.

Bankers Promised to Buy.—Maximum interest under the pension warrant bill would be 3 1/2 per cent and no deficiency checks could be issued after March 1.

Governor Allred said bankers assured him a short time ago that they would purchase the warrants if the legislature provided enough tax money to pay them within a reasonable time.

CONTROL OF RABIES IN GREGG COUNTY IS TOLD BY PHYSICIAN

DR. T. B. WILSON TELLS PUBLIC HEALTH SESSION HOW DISEASE ELIMINATED

KILGORE, Oct. 15.—(P)—Dr. T. B. Wilson today cited rabies control work in Gregg county as an example that could be well-studied by other counties in their fight to control this dread disease.

The director of the Gregg county health unit, speaking before the Texas Public Health Association convention here, told of the work of his unit in stamping out a rabies epidemic after it had spread to such proportions that a county-wide quarantine on dogs had to be ordered last February.

All dogs found in the streets and running loose were impounded and killed after 48 hours and every dog was ordered vaccinated. Dr. Wilson said this county-wide quarantine was the first of its kind on record, so far as he knew.

From Feb. 1 to Sept. 30, a total of 2,348 dogs were killed in the county and 6,963 were vaccinated. Cats were included in the quarantine order and 189 were killed.

The quarantine and its results were watched and studied closely. Dr. Wilson said, by the state department of health and by the United States department of

FRESH FEARS FOR PEACE OF EUROPE WORRY DIPLOMATS

RUSSIAN WARNINGS AND BELGIAN NEUTRALITY STATEMENT CAUSE ANXIETY

By The Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 15.—Soviet Russia, renewed its heavy pressure to force the Spanish military aid issue today amid gathering, grave perplexities on European security.

Amassador Ivan M. Maisky of the Soviet Union and M. Kagan, Russian member of the "Hands-of-Spain" committee, descended again upon Lord Plymouth, harassed secretary of the non-intervention group. They pressed him a second time to convoke the committee immediately to act on their demand for a virtual blockade of Portuguese ports to stop fascist arm shipments to Spain.

At the moment, Britain was pondering this double-barrelled barrage: 1. Belgium's announced reversal to pre-war isolation.

2. A German reply to Locarno pact questions, regarded in many quarters as unfavorable.

The German reply on British queries for detailed suggestions as to future European security was delivered to the foreign office today by Prince Otto Von Bismarck, counselor of the German embassy in London.

Informed sources said it left the way open for future discussions of a new Locarno pact. However, the Reich was understood to be firmly objecting to any attempt to draw Russia into European security negotiations and to be reiterating previous insistence on national neutrality.

Russia's newest call on the foreign office produced a pronounced case of jitters in some British circles which feared a Soviet withdrawal from the neutrality set-up was imminent.

Lord Plymouth, however, said another meeting of the committee would be called "soon."

"The (British) government is fearful of some unexpected development in an international situation already tense," acknowledged Foreign Minister Anthony Eden.

In Brussels, King Leopold demanded strict Belgian neutrality which he said "must aim resolutely at placing us outside conflicts with our neighbors."

Lord Plymouth, after debating a Soviet demand for an immediate committee meeting, refused the request as not proper.

(In Moscow, the government declared Russia had demanded a virtual blockade of Portugal by French and British warships to

BELGIUM'S RETURN TO FULL EUROPEAN NEUTRALITY URGED

ALL EXISTING PACTS AND SECURITY AGREEMENTS WOULD BE REPUDIATED

BRUSSELS, Oct. 15.—(P)—Belgium's return to complete European neutrality, urged upon the cabinet by King Leopold, was interpreted today as repudiating existing security agreements with other powers and duties under the League of Nations covenant.

Informal sources held the Belgian monarch's first speech before a full cabinet session to mean four things:

1. Repudiation of the Franco-Belgian military pact of 1920 which has been regarded as one of the keystones of French defense policy.

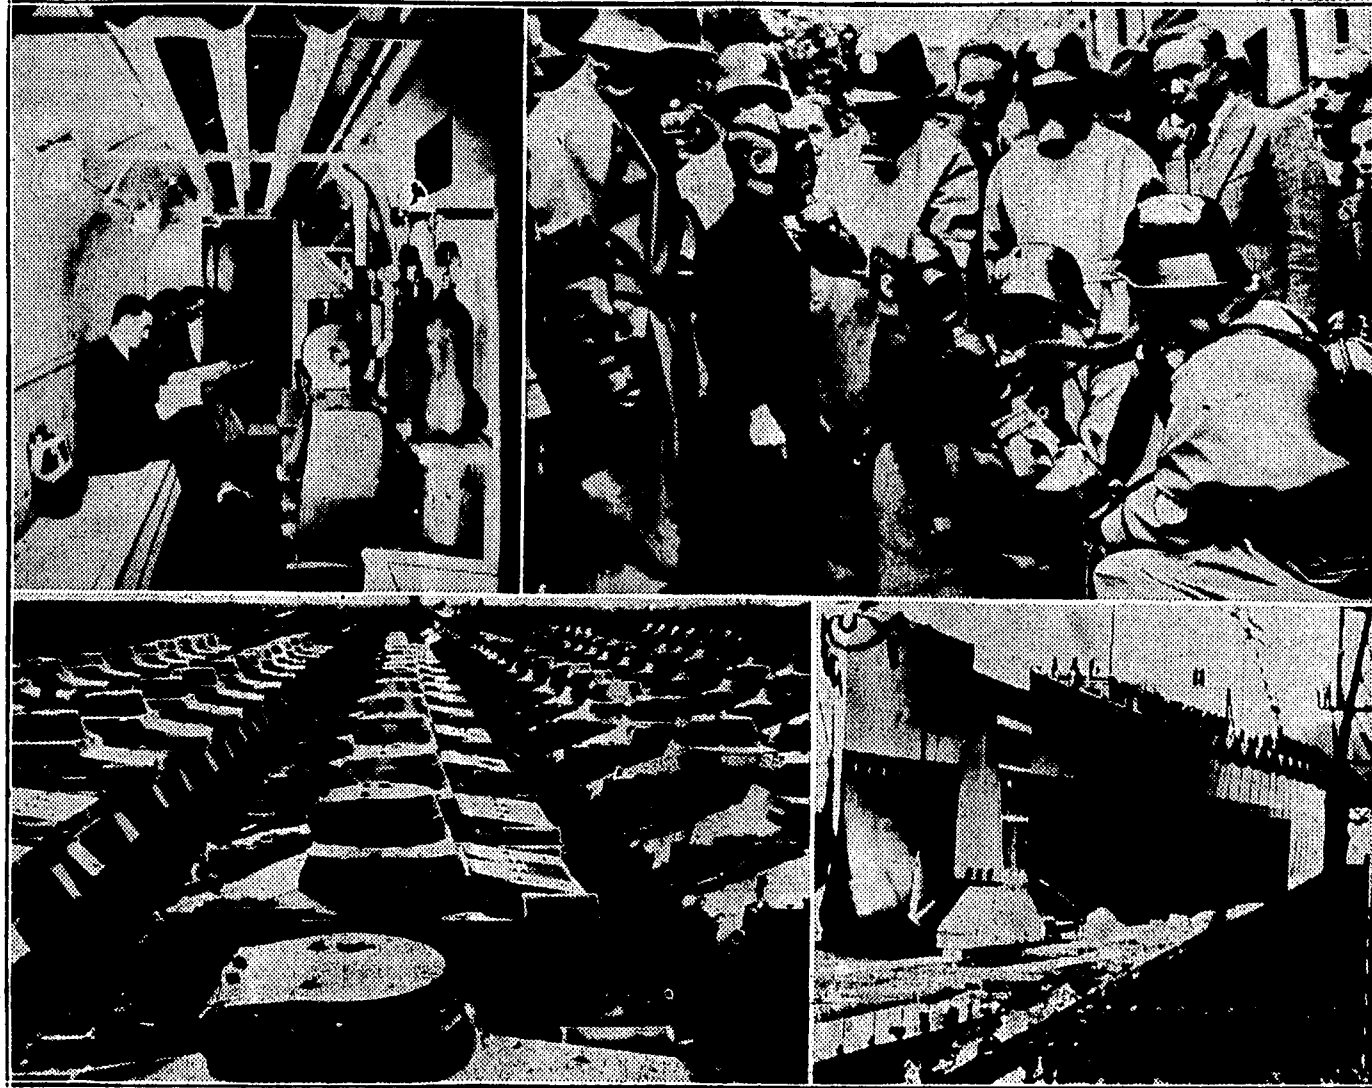

2. Belgium's withdrawal from the Locarno treaty for collective European security.

3. Repudiation of Belgium's duties under the League of Nations covenant.

4. A serious blow to the entire system of collective European security—present and future.

ROOSEVELT SAYS NEW DEAL FAVORS PRIVATE BUSINESS

PRESIDENT HEADS INTO THE STATE OF MICHIGAN AFTER SPEECH IN CHICAGO

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN EN ROUTE TO GRAND RAPIDS, Oct. 15.—(P)—President Roosevelt headed into Michigan today to drive home his assertion at Chicago that the new deal was aligned against "abuse" of the "power of concentrated wealth" and not against private enterprise.

Behind a corps of 30 motorcycle patrolmen he rode last night along streets lined by a cheering multitude, numbered in tens of thousands, to face 26,000 persons in the packed Chicago stadium, where he set forth the emphatic declaration:

"All that; administration has done, all that it proposes to do—and this it does propose to do—is to use every power and authority of the federal government to protect the commerce of America from the selfish forces which ruined it."

To the credit of the new deal, he claimed, the train of American business is moving ahead. Mind you, it did not get out of the ditch itself, it was hauled out by your government."

The President's return as a seeker of re-election to the city and stadium—where he was nominated in 1932 was marked by a

Three columns of fighters, under Gen. Jose Valera, took part in the drive.

Two Madrid planes were shot down during the advance.

Trucks, tanks and armored cars pounded ahead during the offensive, in which General Valera sought not only to chase the retreating government troops but to block their retreat.

Insurgent planes patrolled the skies from dawn to dusk.

CHAMBER COMMERCE DIRECTORS DISCUSS CHANGES IN CHARTER

JOINT MEETING PLANNED TO FOMULATE POLICY FOR ORGANIZATION

A citizen's meeting to select a committee to investigate need of changes in the charter of the city of Corsicana was recommended by members of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly session Thursday morning in the director's room of the State National Bank.

A proposal to hold a joint meeting of the three luncheon clubs and the directorate to formulate a policy for the organization was also adopted.

Under the head of publicity and civic activities Manager A. J. Mitchell reported that a full page advertisement showing 55 new firms and 29 expansions during the past 15 months had been published through the co-operation of the Corsicana Daily Sun and Semi-Weekly Morning Light, and expressed the appreciation of the chamber for the co-operation of the newspaper.

He called attention to the fact that both bank clearings and bank deposits were showing a neat increase; he also reported that County Agent C. C. Morris reported that Navarro county's farm income for 1936 would be in the vicinity of eight and a half million dollars rather than the six million claimed in the ad, and that excellent co-operation was being shown by producers of the county in the soil conservation program and it was possible that this county would be one of the highest ranking in the state.

Flood Damage.—Mr. Mitchell reported that approximately 32,000 acres of farm lands had been flooded recently with about 60 per cent of it in cotton, some of which might be salvaged. He reported that un-gathered cotton bolls were total losses in most instances.

The manager also reported on the trip of the Corsicana High school band to Tyler during the Rose Festival and stated that the Tyler chamber had been profuse with its thanks for the co-operation.

In response to direct questions, Mr. Mitchell stated that the Corsicana capes and uniforms made a neater appearance than the full uniforms used by some other units.

The board without a record vote agreed that the handbook of the Corsicana chamber be revised and re-issued early in 1937.

At the suggestion of the manager, the board approved the suggestion that a joint meeting of the three service clubs and the directorate be held with the future to formulate a definite program.

INQUIRY LABELED FARCE BY HOFHEINZ ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

PROBE OF ALLEGED COMMUNIST TEACHING IN STATE SCHOOLS FAILS CLAIMED

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—(P)—A move to quash the legislative investigation of rumored communist teachings in state-supported institutions appeared in the house of representatives today.

Rep. Roy Hofheinz of Houston, asserting the inquiry was a farce, introduced a resolution ordering the committee of five conducting the investigation to report immediately and cease its labors.

"The inquiry is farcical and ridiculous," Hofheinz declared. "It hasn't accomplished a single worthwhile thing. The committee gave a 19-year old boy a big moment by asking his views on politics and government."

Hofheinz was referring to testimony of Otto Mullinax, law student at the University of Texas, who told the committee his teachers never had taught him communism or at least advocated changing the form of the American government.

The resolution was not placed before the house immediately, however, because of parliamentary restrictions, but Hofheinz said he hoped to get it up soon.

Other members previously had denounced the inquiry and the manner of conducting it.

Meanwhile, Chairman Joe Campbell of Abilene said the general public again would be excluded when the hearing resumed tonight with Herman Wright, former student and official of the Progressive Democrats of Texas, student of last night's demonstration by University students against exclusion.

America's Gold Reserve Is Over Eleven Billions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(P)—America's huge gold reserve crossed the $11,000,000,000 mark today for the first time in history.

Bullion holdings for October 13—the day of the new tri-power gold exchange agreement went in effect—were reported by the treasury at $11,001,612,764, or about $15,000,000 above the previous day.

The increase came as a surprise to many fiscal authorities who had expected the gold pact to start a movement of bullion to France and England.

The report, however, showed that gold was still flowing strongly towards the United States, continuing a trend of many months.

COUNTY FARM AGENT MAIN SPEAKER LIONS LUNCHEON TUESDAY

C. C. Morris, county farm agent, the principal speaker at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Lions club at the Navarro Hotel estimated Navarro county will realize in excess of eight million dollars this year in agricultural products. This amount, he added, will be twice the amount realized in 1932.

In charge of today's program were Boyce Martin and Hugh Bryant, and for next week's program committee Dr. L. E. Kelton, Sr., appointed W. P. McCammon, preliminary and Dr. H. B. Love and B. Lynn Sanders as the regular committee. T. B. Kirkham was presented today as a new member to the Lions club, bringing the total membership to 36.

Mr. Morris, discussing the new soil conservation program, declared it is astounding that the country was so long in coming to such an important and constructive program in view of the fact that the program is built upon fundamentals. Further explaining the program, Mr. Morris pointed out there is more to be reckoned with than just fertilizing the soil and named them as plant diseases, pernicious vegetation and washing of soil.

The county agent stated in his opinion the farmland of Navarro county has been damaged more by plant diseases than both the floods and drought.

May Reduce Planting. This year and the next three years, Mr. Morris said, the farmers will have the opportunity to reduce from 20 to 35 per cent of their producing land; will be given benefits for diverting it, and yet will be permitted to plant soil building crops.

The speaker showed how the farmers will be paid benefits for reducing their crops and also for building up the soil.

Mr. Morris said he had made a careful survey of the present crop conditions in Navarro county, and said the Daily Sun estimate of 60,000 bales of cotton will not be far wrong. He pointed out that all the cotton in lands inundated by floods was not totally destroyed and that at the time of the floods much of the cotton had already been harvested.

The county agent estimated cotton would bring into the county four million dollars; soil up-building benefits, $500,000; feedstuffs, two million dollars, and livestock $1,500,000 which will total eight million dollars. To this he added longtime benefits will accrue to the county from a wholesome movement among farmers improving their farms and property.

DYNAMITE HIDES IN WORDS, FOR OVERTURNING SOCIETY*

Speeches of Tent-Maker of Tarsus Turned His World Upside Down --- Power of Present-Day Agitators---Should There Be a Moratorium on Preaching?

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Doubtless with his tongue in his cheek, and with the healthful purpose of stirring up discussion, the rector of Holy Trinity church, New York, recently advocated a moratorium on preaching for two or three years. It was a fine piece of gaudy writing, and brought forth innumerable comments upon the quality of contemporary preaching. There is a deal of wooden discarding in the pulpit without which the Church would be better off. Theological seminaries and denominational courts, if at all alive, simply must give heed to the present condition of the Christian pulpit.

All of the comments upon Dr. Fleming's call for a moratorium that I have read have concluded that for real preaching, of the sort that makes God real, and changes lives and communities, the need is constant. We could better declare a moratorium on scientific discovery and invention than upon the interpretation of the Eternal to human life. The world's greatest need today is the world's greatest need today.

Memories of Old Cities. There comes to mind, as I approach this Lesson on Paul the preacher, the memory of a stone stile beside a little white church, of the Greek Orthodox communion, in the green and lovely town of Berea, in Macedonia. It is called to this day "Paul's Pulpit," and it marks the traditional site of the great missionary apostle's preaching to the open-minded Bereans of nearly two thousand years ago. History has marched through the city with mailed feet. The buildings have been razed again and again. Empire has succeeded empire in control. But the memory of Paul's preaching has survived it all. So with turbulent Thessalonians. At the moment, the new Greek dictator is finding his greatest troubles in the ever-restless city of Salonica. I myself have had high adventures there, rescuing three missionaries from a four Greek prison. I was threatened with assassination because I resembled Venizelos! There seems to be violence in the air of this old city. During the war officers in the White House had been used to attract waiters' attention by throwing plates on the floor. A recent king was killed there. A strange religious cult of Jews continues in Salonica. History in heaps has been enacted in this insatiable port city of the Balkans; and many memorials survive. But it is the name of Paul, the missionary whom the old city mobbed, that persists most frequently. Because of his work, the Balkans are today a Christian region.

Dynamite in Words. We need not recite the adventures of Paul and his companions; they were the usual things—first, preaching, and then mobbing. In the Lesson text is a revealing and familiar phrase: "These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also." Simply by preaching the Story, Paul was putting society into commotion. One of John Wesley's men once preached a sermon with these three headings: "1. The world is wrong side up. 2. It has got to be turned upside down. 3. We are the chaps to do it."

There is dynamite in words. They are more potent than the "Big Berthas" of the world war. No lethal weapon can compete with them. Today's turmoil amongst mankind is chiefly due to the facility with which up-setting words may be carried to everybody by the radio. Overnight, single persons have loomed into the proportions of national figures by their radio talks. The whispered words of Communists, "boring from within," are filling the ranks of labor, and of the unemployed, with new portents of peril to society. Representatives of queer cults are moving, almost unobserved, over the United States and Canada, upsetting the faith of Christians with their cunning words. So no thoughtful person may regard lightly today the power of the spoken word.

Sermons—Plus. This rugged adventurer and pioneer, Paul of Tarsus, wrought mightily upon his time, and for all future, simply by his words.

He had no organization, although he usually established a Christian church wherever he went. No publicity man accompanied him. He did not bear letters of introduction from and to the mighty. He was without money, and supported himself by the labor of his own hands. Wherever he went, he talked. Whenever possible, he spoke in the synagogues of his own people. But anywhere was a convenient pulpit for him—the market place, the street corner, the public hall, Salvation Army street meetings have full precedent in Paul's practice.

With his words this great preacher gave himself. As he later wrote to the Thessalonians, he imparted to them, not the Gospel of God only, but also his own soul.

"Thou must be true thyself. Ere thou the truth canst teach. Thy soul must overflow. Ere thou another's soul canst reach."

It needs the overflow of heart, To give the lips full speech.

Every powerful message is only the vocalization of a life. There is a story of a notorious hypocrite speaking in prayer meeting, who was interrupted by the cry "Speak louder! Your life makes so much noise that I cannot hear what you say!"

Anybody who misses upon the exciting events of Christianity's first explosive entry into the world of ancient cultures must be impressed by the outstanding fact that the preaching of Paul and of the other apostles consisted mainly in the telling of the Story. They had wonderful facts to relate. Their message was simply Jesus, the wonder-working Son of God. His life, His death, His resurrection furnished them, all the sermon material they needed. Neither current events nor the newest books were required to make their discourses interesting. They had no pulpits to reach. Just Jesus sufficed.

Highbrows may marvel, but to this day, in every non-Christian land, the unadorned telling of that Story is transforming individual lives and entire communities. The oldest Gospel method is still the newest power. Human hearts are hungering for the comforting message of the revelation of God in His crucified and risen Son.

Every visiting speaker in Gaston Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, is struck by an inscription on the top of the side of the pulpit, visible to him, but not to the congregation. The words, and the pulpit itself, are the gift of the widow of a former pastor, Rev. Dr. Andrew Todd Taylor. The plea and the challenge quote the words of certain Greeks addressed to Philippi:—"Sir, we would see Jesus."

BACK TO GOLD.

The French franc, after being allowed to joggle up and down for a while with as little interference as possible, will be stabilized again—given a fixed value with relation to the American dollar and British pound, expressed in terms of gold. That at least is the aim of these three powers and the hope of the capitalistic world.

It would mean, at least in theory, a formal return to the gold standard, although it seems unlikely that gold will ever again be allowed to circulate freely, publicly and privately, as it used to.

The gold supply may be permanently locked up by governments, to be used by them for international settlements and stabilization funds, but denied for private use. It would be frankly, for the world in general, what it has already become actually in most countries—a sort of sacred foundation for money values, giving worth to the paper substitutes in circulation, but itself invisible and unobtainable.

Because the world's supply of gold is so limited and fixed, in comparison with the varying volume of paper and credit and the vast body of public and private debt, the gold units tend to be cut thinner and thinner in order to keep capitalism operating on this monetary system. Thus France takes another slice out of her gold franc, to match the recently thinned British pound and American dollar.

CAMERA HUNTING.

A remarkable story about King Edward came from Scotland lately. He had gone to his castle in Balmoral for "the fall shooting." In due form he went out hunting for deer. His guide stalked a fine stag for him. The King raised his gun to shoot—then suddenly dropped it, jerked out a little pocket camera and took a snapshot instead of a gunshot. He got his picture, and the deer got away.

It must have been a terrible humiliation for the guide, and spreads consternation among British sportsmen. It also shows the growing humanitarianism of the British sovereign. He doesn't like to kill things, especially such beautiful, free creatures as deer. Growing numbers of people, especially in America, understand that.

CRAWLING.

It is a pleasure at last to be able to say something complimentary about the Italian regime in Ethiopia. Viceroy Graziani has stopped the groveling on their stomachs before their conquerors.

It occurred at the ceremonies held at Addis Ababa in a celebration of the end of the rainy season. When the viceroy opened his audience in the hall of state, the native leaders who were admitted fell upon their faces, wriggling forward in that posture, in sign of submission. Graziani bade them rise, saying that "only slaves" did that, and Italy "desires all her Ethiopian citizens to be free and to have perfect consciousness of their dignity as men."

It will be well if both Ethiopians and Italians live up to that utterance.

Political appeals from now on will be directed at six or seven million fence-sitters.

THIS HE ASKED.
"This said he before he went:
"After I am gone
Till the last of life be spent
Let your life go on."

"Sweep the rooms and dust and bake
As you did before.
Go you, for the children's sake,
Smiling to the door."

"Let them dance and let them
sing;
Keep them not from play.
Grief is such a fearful thing,
Brush its tears away."

"Fear for me your loveliest dress
When to town you go.
You will love me none the less
Hiding all your woe."

"Should they ask how you can be
Serene, with heart so sore,
Say I wished in memory
Just that—and nothing more."

FOR RACERS ONLY.

Ab Jenkins has decided to call it a season and quit setting speed records until next year. Jenkins is the demon driver of Utah who has recently made eight new motor car speed and endurance records. He intended to do another dozen, but a mechanical difficulty developed in his car and he called off further attempts.

The list of this driver's achievements is a little confusing to persons who do not follow speed driving as closely as they do professional baseball and collegiate football. At any rate, Jenkins went 100 miles at an hourly speed of 169.57. He drove 170,999.7 miles in one hour. For 200 miles he achieved the average of 171.05, which is nearly ten miles better than the previous record. So it goes, for eight different speed and endurance driving tests.

All this fancy driving is done over a twelve-mile circular course on a dry bed of an ancient salt sea 120 miles west of Salt Lake City. It is a type of driving hardly practical for ordinary folks. There aren't any super-highways for it and there aren't enough salt flats to accommodate many drivers at one time.

THE PRESS IN GERMANY

Philip Porter, an American newspaper man observing Europe for the first time, writes from Berlin that to Americans or Britons with a sense of personal liberty, Germany today is "a bad dream." The worst that has been written about Hitlerism or Nazism, according to our standards of civilization, he says is true. American residents describe the Nazis as racketeers. The most ordinary phases of life are strictly regulated. "You almost have to get permission to spit."

As for freedom of the press, he tells how editors march to the propaganda ministry quarters two or three times a day, each sitting at a certain desk, with a government spy watching what kind of notes he makes, while he takes dictation. "He publishes according to order—or else!" "The foreign correspondents resident there have the same sort of disgust and group unity that a similar group would have in covering a plague of some kind. They recognize the handouts as about 95 per cent bunk. They believe no official and marvel at the apparent gullibility of the people. And each of them has a string of pipelines and tipsters who work with the same deviousness as spies in the movies. They meet these people at all sorts of peculiar places, and never talk over the telephone on important business. In fact they use only a kind of code language in any sort of phone conversation because every foreign correspondent knows his phone is tapped."

Reading such revelations, Americans can appreciate their blessings. Governments supporting each other's currencies are learning what private business men discovered long ago—that it doesn't pay them to bankrupt each other.

Automobile models again all change together, with further streamlining. Like-wise feminine models.

England, which was recently flat broke is now busily building "luxury flats."

Men may be born equal, but some can talk louder and hit harder and give meaner looks than others.

WRITING BACKWARD

Educators in Wheeling, W. Va., are said to be in pother because an eleven-year-old boy "writes backward." He starts at the right side of a sheet of paper and writes toward the left, letter by letter and word by word. Other people have to use a mirror to read his writing.

His teacher says she thinks the boy "sees things in the exact opposite." It isn't necessary to jump to that conclusion. Leonardo da Vinci, one of the greatest painters, and also one of the greatest all-around geniuses who ever lived, wrote in the same way, and nobody ever suggested that there was anything wrong with his eyes. It might just be a natural preference similar to left-handedness, though more rare.

ANIMALS IN COURT.

The dog that was tried for murder—and acquitted—might be interested in the horse that won a damage verdict of $117 to compensate for "mental anguish" suffered in an accident. It was a riding horse, formerly three-gaited. Two years ago horse and rider were frightened by a truck. The animal shied, threw its rider and lost its own nerve completely. In fact, it lost all three gaits and has never since been as good a riding horse as before.

The owner asked $2,500 damages, $2,000 for personal injuries and $500 for the horse. The jury seemed to sympathize with both plaintiff and defendant, granting some damages but greatly cutting down the amount asked.

As for the horse's "mental anguish," has it been eased by the moral victory and the $117? And what will it do with the windfall?

Well, Europeans criticized the Ethiopians for their barbarous warfare, and now in Spain the Ethiopians have a chance to see what civilized warfare is.

"Candidates should not make promises they know are impossible of fulfillment," says Robert Quillen. How then would they ever be elected?

Yes, as somebody says, "America is on the move." About a million Americans are living in moving vans, although they don't call them that.

CLEBURNE MAN IS FATALLY BEATEN IN FORT WORTH TODAY

FORT WORTH. Oct. 14.—(P)—C. L. Johnston, 40, of Cleburne, was fatally beaten shortly after 1 a. m. today and died in a hospital five hours later.

Two suspects, one an ex-convict, are held in city jail booked on police charges of murder and robbery.

Witnesses told homicide Detective A. C. Howerton that the beating followed a quarrel with two strangers in a beer tavern.

Johnston was in Fort Worth with J. W. Hudson, also of Cleburne, and his brother, J. A. Hudson, of Coppell, and the three were said to have quarreled with two other men they met in the tavern.

Johnston and the Hudson brothers left the tavern, followed a few minutes later by the other two. J. W. Hudson later told Howerton that two men followed the Hudsons and Johnston for a time, then stopped them at the intersection. He said one of the strangers told his companion: "I'll hold them, you do the rest." J. W. Hudson said the speaker held his hand in his pocket.

MAKERS GENERATORS AND CONDENSERS IN PRICE AGREEMENTS?

WASHINGTON. Oct. 14.—(P)—Nine makers of the important turbine-generators and condensers used in power plants were accused today of entering into a price-fixing agreement.

The accused, the Federal Trade Commission, said the agreement tended to monopolize business and deprive public and private utilities, various government units and other buyers, of the advantages of free competition.

It called on the respondents in a complaint to show cause why they should not be compelled to cease the alleged practices.

Named with General Electric and Westinghouse were the Heat Exchange Institute, a trade association with headquarters in New York and these other companies: Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee; Elliott Sompany, Jeannette, Pa.; Worthington Pump and Machinery corporation, Harrison, N. GROUND GRIP TIRES

PULL YOU THROUGH

They MAKE THEIR OWN ROAD

Ground Grip Tires are the greatest traction tires ever built for unimproved roads. Through mud and snow, road or no road, this amazing tire will pull you through and save the cost of chains. The patented tread, designed and developed by Firestone, is self-cleaning and the husky bars of rubber are so placed that they dig in and will not slip. The continuous tread design eliminates bumping when you travel on hard surfaced roads.

The secret of this extra traction is the scientifically designed rubber lug of the tread. Two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords placed under the tread welds the tread and cord body into one inseparable unit.

Avoid delays this winter, equip with Firestone Ground Grip Tires and drive on schedule and in safety.

All flights are preliminary to the establishment of commercial passenger service beginning Oct. 21.

dent that his instructors had not taught him communism or atheism, a state legislative committee turned its inquiry to new fields today after a hearing enlivened by expulsion of a jeering student gallery group.

Otto Mullinax, of Winooski, a low student, also asserted that the progressive democrats of Texas, which broke away from the young democrats' organization, had no communistic leanings. Mullinax is an executive committeeman for the progressive democrats.

Indignant at what he termed a "cheering section" for university faculty members summoned for questioning, the committee ordered the hall of the house of representatives cleared of the general public last night.

For nearly an hour the officials pushed, ordered and wrangled with hundreds of students nearly filling the spacious galleries, who roared "boos," refused to move, stormed back after being once ejected and then sang the "Texas school anthem, when finally expelled.

Officers were aided by pleas to the students from Dr. R. H. Montgomery, professor of economics at the university and a member of the advisory board of the national resources committee, and Rep. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, of counsel for some of the witnesses at the inquiry.

Violated Precedent. Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio, who came to Austin for the hearing, declared the committee had violated legislative precedent in not first warning the audience and then clearing the galleries if the warning was disregarded.

The next committee session will be tonight. Maverick declared "nearly all" of the questions fired at Mullinax were "wholly irrelevant."

"Why they even asked that boy what his ancestors thought about government," he said. "Who could answer such a question?" Chairman Joe Caldwell of Asherton said, however, the committee was making good progress. Other witnesses slated for interrogation included Charles A. Timm, professor of government, and Dr. Montgomery, who testified at the first session.

Amid wrangling between his three attorneys and members of the committee over procedure, Mullinax testified none of his instructors at the University had taught him communism or atheism and that they and he highly

Eden, notified of Lord Plymouth's refusal to Russia, pledged Great Britain's unwavering support to the present policy of non-intervention in Spain. He declared his government was determined to "confine that tragedy within the boundaries of that country."

Should Be Depleted.

LISBON, Oct. 15.—(P)—Russian "bluffs and threatening" should be "depleted" by the Portuguese people, Captain Botelho Moniz, nationalist leader, declared in a radio address today.

The Lisbon government declined comment officials saying they had just received copies of the Soviet note to Lord Plymouth, neutrality committee chairman.

Germany Delivers Questionnaire Reply

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(P)—Germany's long delayed reply to a British questionnaire asking detailed suggestions for future European security was delivered today to the British foreign office.

The Nazi answer was brought to the British officials by Prince Otto Von Bismarck, counsellor of the German embassy in London.

Informed sources declared the reply left the way open for future discussions of European security problems but repeated Germany's demand that the League of Nations must have national equality among other European powers.

Anti-War Agreement.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—(P)—Adolf Hitler, answering Britain's "questionnaire" on a proposed new Locarno pact, today was understood to have expressed willingness to join an anti-war agreement with Britain, France, Belgium and Italy.

However, his agreement to join a pact in which the countries would re-affirm their intention never to war among themselves for any reason was reported to have left out Eastern and South-eastern European states.

Russia Maintains Position.

MOSCOW, Oct. 15.—(P)—Russia today stood pat on her demand for a blockade of Portuguese ports to prevent shipment of arms to the Spanish insurgents but declined to disclose her next step should the European non-intervention committee remain adamant against such control.

It was learned the Kremlin will continue to insist the com-

The Kremlin was portrayed as feeling that each member of the non-intervention committee has the right to ask the body to be summoned and that the chairman has no power to turn down a request.

gram of activities for the chamber of commerce during the coming months.

"Texas Warm Springs. A report was also presented on the efforts to secure the location of the "Texas Warm Springs" in Corsicana, and it was stated that the local organization was co-operating fully with the state agencies sponsoring the proposal.

Jay A. Silverberg, reporting on mercantile activities and plans, stated that no definite program had been adopted. Some discussion followed on a plan submitted to the committee, and it was announced that the board was ready to back any plans adopted, and the committee was urged to report as early as possible.

Possibilities of a bus terminal were discussed at length and after Mayor J. S. Murchison stated that he did not believe the bus operators could be forced to supply the necessary conveniences, the board voted to give the city commission assistance desired in preparing such ordinances as might be needed to remedy the situation as far as possible. Special attention was called to blocking of streets and double parking by the busses.

Charter Changes.

Feasibility of some changes in the charter of the city of Corsicana was discussed at length by the directors. Mayor Murchison stated that for several months the commission had been studying the need of changing the offices of city attorney and city tax assessor and collector from elective to appointive posts.

The duties of these city officials, their salaries, and the power of control over them was discussed by the various members of the board. It was pointed out that the salary of the city attorney was $125 per month and that at present he was not drawing 10 per cent of the amount of delinquent taxes voluntarily paid by the property owners, although such had been the practice in past years.

Comment of the individual members of the board was favorable to the proposed changes, and it was also suggested that the commissioners be elected to specific posts rather than elected at large and then assigned to their duties by the mayor. The board finally approved a motion to call a citizens' meeting on the problem with a committee to be named at that meeting to investigate the proposals and then report directly to the commission. It was pointed out that an election on the matter should be held as soon as possible if the changes were desired, and that about 60 days would be required for the preliminaries.

RUSSIA MAKES NEW DEMAND CONCERNING SPANISH CIVIL WAR

VIRTUAL ULTIMATUM THAT NEUTRALITY COMMITTEE ACT IMMEDIATELY

By The Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Soviet Russia has demanded establishment of a virtual blockade of Portugal by the British and French navies to halt supplies of arms for Spanish insurgents, officials disclosed tonight.

The demand was made by Russian diplomatic officials to Lord Plymouth, chairman of the international non-intervention committee, in London today.

Immediate establishment of "control" over Portuguese ports, it stated, is the only way to end the supply of arms to the fascist army in Spain.

An official communiqué stated: "We demand from the committee the establishment of such control as to guarantee the enforcement of the control measures be turned over to the French or British fleet or both."

M. Kagan, the Soviet representative on the non-intervention committee, asked that the group be convoked without delay to consider the new Soviet proposal.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's ambassador, in a personal visit to the British foreign office, demanded today, informed sources said, that the international committee be summoned this week to act on Moscow's charges of rampant fascist violation of the "hands off Spain" accord.

Ivan M. Maisky, the ambassador who returned from Moscow only last night, lost no time in personally assuming charge of Russia's case against Italy, Germany and Portugal, which it has accused of sending military aid to Spain's insurgents.

He descended on the foreign office while the British cabinet assembled across the street and called on Lord Plymouth, British chairman of the non-intervention group.

Thus he lent personal emphasis to a new and formal Russian demand for action to isolate the Spanish war.

The ambassador was accompanied by M. Kagan, Soviet member of the non-intervention committee. They reached the foreign office shortly after the second Russian note which had been delivered to Lord Plymouth.

It was understood Ambassador Maisky flatly informed Lord Plymouth that Russia considered a week ample time for the fascist powers to reply to the Soviet charges, detailed at last Friday's committee session.

Some sources described the Soviet communication as a virtual ultimatum.

Ambassador Maisky, it was understood, asked that a full meeting of the committee be called at the earliest possible moment to consider the new document, which was understood to have advanced concrete proposals to balk violation of the non-intervention accord in the future.

The Soviet demand, said in a note to reply to the Soviet charges, detailed at last Friday's committee session.

Informal sources, who declared details of the message were disclosed, asserted the note ended on the ominous note of "or else."

(Russia previously threatened to withdraw from the neutrality agreement unless measures were taken to assure non-intervention by European nations in the Spanish conflict.)

Ivan M. Maisky, Soviet ambassador to Great Britain, who recently returned to London after a holiday in Moscow, was reported to have brought new instructions to attempt to force the committee into action.

Russia, in the new ultimatum, which was delivered by Mosevich Kagan, Russian committee member, apparently disregarded an Italian implication that the Rome government would assist Spanish fascists if Russian communists went to the aid of the Madrid administration.

Allred Proclaims Texas Parent-Teacher Week October 19-25

Gov. James V. Allred has declared the week of October 19-25, Texas Parent-Teacher Week in honor of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, which, on October 19, celebrates its 27th birthday.

The chief executive urged that attention be especially centered on child welfare work during the forthcoming week.

Mrs. M. A. Taylor of Bonham, state president, also stated: "Nearly two thousand congress units will observe the birthday of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, which, on October 19, celebrates its 27th birthday. The chief executive urged that attention be especially centered on child welfare work during the forthcoming week."

October Pension Checks Be Mailed Out Immediately

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The state treasury received $840,000 from the federal government today and old age assistance headquarters announced checks for October pensions would be mailed immediately.

Approximately $840,000 checks for amounts totalling more than $1,300,000 had been held up for several weeks pending arrival of the federal funds to match those put up by the state.

The new money relieved a pressing financial emergency in old age assistance temporarily, and the legislature was in special session trying to work out a permanent solution.

Until new revenue measures can be adopted by the legislature and become effective, Gov. Allred has suggested payment of pensions with interest-bearing warrants issued against the old age assistance fund.

The fund would have little money in it for several months probably but bankers have indicated willingness to cash the warrants if enough tax measures were passed to guarantee ultimate payment.

Governor Allred reiterated, meanwhile, he planned to submit no other subjects, not even delinquent taxes, to the legislature until "some revenue is in sight."

ROOSEVELT AND RECOVERY FOUND TO BE MORE THAN MERE CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

AUSTIN, Oct. 13. (Sp.)—Roosevelt and Recovery is more than a campaign slogan, it develops, for it has turned out a fact, judging by recent newspaper headlines and articles. This means increased purchasing power, the basis of all prosperity.

A Lampasas item of Oct. 10, says the mohair clip this season brought to growers in that county alone $400,000. "The price averaged 53 to 55 cents a pound, the highest in several years," the article says.

J. Palmer Schochler, Rusk farmer, is making watermelons and seeds a financial success. He marketed 200 tons this year. He has raised as much as 2,000 melons to the acre and raised one democratic melon that weighed 108 pounds.

Port Worth in September became the biggest corn market in the United States, 687 cars having been received that month, and most of it was produced in this state. Texas is shipping its corn all over the country, and according to G. E. Blewett, Secretary of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers' Association, prices are much higher than in any previous year, with prices 15 to 30 cents a bushel higher than last year.

Dairymen Look to Texas
Lloyd Burlington, Chicago, Director of the National Dairy Show, has just given out a statement that "breeders everywhere are casting envious eyes on this section of the country." He, too, says dairy prices have greatly improved.

A citrus fiesta will be held at Mission, Dec. 4, 5, and 6 "inaugurating what promises to be the most lucrative season in the history of the Rio Grande Valley."

From Washington came the news that the United States is taking less and less corn from the Argentine, that for a while was a threat. In fact, from April 1, to Sept. 1 this year, the decrease in corn imports from the Argentine was 80 percent over the figure for the same period last year.

News reports also say that prices have gone much higher on cattle, hogs and wheat, while the oil prices also are keeping up.

So here is a little mathematical problem: Roosevelt plus election Nov. 3 equals continued prosperity.

Negro Sentenced Die For Shooting Man From Ambush

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Tommy Howard, 33, negro, must die for wounding a white man in a robbery attempt.

He was convicted by a jury yesterday on a charge of hiding in the garage of Dan L. Perkins, wealthy Shreveport oil geologist, and shooting him from ambush.

Court attaches said they could remember no other case in which the jury specified the death penalty when the victim of a shooting survived, although the crime of lying in wait with intent to commit murder is punishable by death in Louisiana.

Editor Declares Newspapers Have Set Record Pace

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Stephen Bolles, editor of the Janesville (Wis.) Daily Gazette, declared today that "nothing in the history of any development, except perhaps the radio and automobile, has compared with the growth of the daily newspaper in the last two decades."

Speaking at the twenty-third annual convention of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, Bolles said that "the newspaper has expanded its press association reports had enabled the small city

UNITED STATES IS PROMOTING PEACE BY ITS GENERAL POLICY

PRESIDENT MAKES THIS DECLARATION IN HIS ST. LOUIS SPEECH

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—(AP)—President Roosevelt faced a huge crowd on the city's Memorial Plaza today and declared the United States by its recovery, good neighbor and commercial policies was "promoting the course of peace throughout the world."

Dedicating a memorial building to the world war soldier dead, which has just begun to rise in skeleton form, the president said: "We best honor the memory of those dead by striving for peace, that the terror of the days of war will be with us no more."

The president, who had just finished a seven-speech campaign in Kansas and Missouri and was to resume his re-election drive in Illinois later in the day, motored through flag-covered streets lined deep with welcoming citizens.

"We in America do not build monuments to war," he asserted. "We do not build monuments to conquerors. We build monuments to commemorate the spirit of sacrifice in war—reminders of our desire for peace."

He added: "In what we have done during the last three years at home, to extend the hand of good neighbor to the nations of the world, to break down the barriers to commerce which divide nation from nation, we are promoting the course of peace throughout the world."

Mayor Bernard P. Dickmann introduced the President and the crowd, spread back for a city block to the flag-bedecked steel frame of the memorial structure, sent up a loud cheer.

Before leaving the stand, Mr. Roosevelt presented a flag to Mrs. Myrtle Shamp, president of the Gold Star Mothers.

President Dedicates St. Louis Memorial

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Dedicating a world war memorial site here, President Roosevelt declared today that "we best honor the memory of those dead by striving for peace, that the terror of the days of war will be with us no more."

"In what we have done during the last three years to promote recovery at home, to extend the hand of good neighbor to the nations of the world, to break down the barriers to commerce which divide nation from nation, we are promoting the course of peace throughout the world," he said, adding:

"Here at home is the call to service, too."

Inequalities in the social order call for correction, he said, and a little later on declared all major wars have been the result of "greater disturbances" in the social and economic machinery.

"The late war has been no exception," he asserted.

"New problems arise to take the place of the old. We rejoice here that those problems are being met and solved without impairing our faith and confidence in the people's ability to do it themselves by the peaceful processes of democratic representative government."

President Pleased With Outlook Now

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN, ENROUTE TO ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Expressing confidence to nation on experiencing a "greater degree of prosperity" and the political barometer is reading "fair and warmer," President Roosevelt brought his whirlwind western campaign into eastern paper to grow overnight "from a baby x x x to husky manhood."

Bolles asserted that the community newspaper "must be clean, it must be happily welcomed by women and children. It should be purged of dirt and breathe more than crime and disaster. It must be more discriminating than the metropolitan newspaper xxx."

MISSOURI PREACHER, SAWMILL OPERATOR, HELD FOR MURDERS

CHARGED WITH SLAYING GIRL AND MAN ON HIGHWAY TUESDAY NIGHT

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Oct. 14.—(AP)—W. C. Fain, 50, preacher-sawmill operator at the village of Fisk, was held here today under two murder charges after the fatal shooting last night of his 17-year-old former housekeeper, Beulah Evans, and Loren O'Dell, 22, share-cropper.

Fain surrendered to officers here last night. He refused to discuss the shootings, witnessed by O'Dell's 17-year-old bride, Georgia, and two of Fain's children, Myrtle Wallace, 25, and Charles Fain, 9.

Coroner J. R. Reynolds said Miss Evans recently left Fain's employ after keeping house for him and his seven children since the death of his wife eight months ago.

Officers said Mrs. O'Dell related that Fain and the girl walked behind the automobile and that they argued in loud tones.

"I got out of the car and started to run out into a field," Mrs. O'Dell said. "Then I heard a shot."

Charles Fain was quoted by the officers as saying he ran behind the car after hearing the shot and found Miss Evans lying on the ground screaming, and that his father knelt down and kissed her, saying:

"I love you."

O'Dell, for whose slaying officers could ascribe no reason, was killed afterward.

Fain then ordered us back into the automobile, turned the car around and we passed by the bodies as we drove toward town," Mrs. O'Dell was quoted as saying.

Missouri and Illinois today from Kansas and western Missouri.

A morning speech in dedication of a war memorial at St. Louis, a series of rear platform talks in Illinois, and a major address at the Chicago stadium tonight formed the schedule for the sixth day of his wide swing around the Agrarian interior.

The President was due in Chicago around 6:40 p. m., eastern standard time. His address there was set for 9:30 p. m.

In his final night rear platform talk of the trip, Mr. Roosevelt after urging "broader and firmer" opportunities for youth in a formal address in Kansas City's municipal auditorium last evening, addressed a crowd of several thousand at Carrollton, Mo.

He said Missouri being a centrally located state was a "good barometer of political conditions" and at the present moment the barometer was "fair and warm."

He had just emerged from the home territory of his republican rival for the presidency.

"We have more security and a greater degree of prosperity and incidentally a sounder prosperity than four years ago," he said. "If we can keep on going, there are lots of things still to be done and we don't want to turn the country back to the days when things came to a stop."

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—(AP)—William H. Settle, chairman of the Roosevelt agricultural committee, said today he had been asked to arrange a conference of midwestern farm leaders with President Roosevelt here tonight.

A telegram from Marvin McIntyre, the president's secretary, suggested the conference be held shortly after the presidential special pulled into Chicago about 7 p. m. (eastern standard time).

TWO UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS AND STUDENT CALLED

INVESTIGATION OF COMMUNISTIC TEACHINGS IN UNIVERSITY TO OPEN

AUSTIN, Oct. 3.—(AP)—A committee of the house of representatives appointed to investigate charges of communistic teachings in state-supported institutions issued subpoenas today for two University of Texas professors and one student.

Rep. Joe Caldwell of Asherton, chairman, said Dr. R. H. Montgomery, economic professor, Charles A. Timm, associate professor of government, and Otto Mullinax, a student, had been subpoenaed to appear before the committee at its initial session tonight.

Dr. Montgomery recently returned to his teaching position after a leave of absence during which he held post with the national administration in Washington. Mullinax campaigned unsuccessfully for the legislature at the recent primary. Timm has taught in the university several years.

In urging the investigation, Caldwell told the house he had made some startling discoveries which would greatly interest that legislative body.

Other members of the committee are Reps. Tom Cooper of Tyler, Fred Harris of Dallas, J. Manley Head of Stephenville and Carl Bergma of Corrigan.

Whether Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the university, would appear at the first session of the committee, as Caldwell previously intimated, was not learned.

To Push Cox Probe

Rep. A. B. Tarwater of Plainview said, meanwhile, he would press his resolution and an investigation of activities of Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research of the university, and J. Everett Haley, former history research employee.

Cox has been criticized for his new deal cotton program while Haley has opposed re-election of President Roosevelt and the national democratic administration policies generally. Haley is chairman of the Jeffersonian democrats of Texas.

Tarwater's resolution and an amendment by Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur proposing an investigation of faculty censorship of the Daily Texan, a student newspaper at the university, were pending in the house.

House Reverses Itself

By a vote of 71 to 66, the house reversed itself and decided against raising the tax from two to five cents a barrel. Other amendments proposing different increases remained to be acted upon.

What some termed private oil interests of certain legislators figured prominently in the long debate preceding the vote.

Reps. Gaston Palmer of Norman and Clarence Farmer of Fort Worth counseled their colleagues against accepting the views of representatives who were personally interested in the oil industry. They mentioned Representatives Morris Roberts of Pettus, who is a senator-elect, and Sidney Latham of Longview.

Roberts said every representative must have some business because the legislature was in session only a small part of the time. He stated he was not an oil producer and the tax burden consequently would not fall on him.

"I'll vote with you to make a reasonable increase in the oil tax," Roberts said. "But let's don't ruin an industry that means so much to Texas as this one."

Senate Adjourns

The senate met briefly and then adjourned to permit its state affairs committee to resume hearings on the omnibus tax bill recently passed by the lower chamber.

Orville S. Carpenter, state director of aged assistance, gave his views of the pension situation, his testimony following closely that given previously during the house investigation of old age assistance.

He said approximately 85,000 persons were now on the rolls, that the number would increase probably to 146,000 in the future, under the present law, and that approximately 204,000 applications had been received on Aug. 31.

The old age assistance headquarters announced during the morning that $804,000 had been received from Washington to match state pension funds and that checks totalling $1,301,787 were being mailed.

COMMUNITY HOUSE PROMISED HOUSTON GARDENS RESIDENTS

RESETTLEMENT COLONY DISAGREEMENT WILL BE AIDED IN COURTS

HOUSTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—A $9,500 community house was promised Houston Gardens today as a quid pro quo for administration of the resettlement colony of 99 persons headed toward court.

John Caulfield, official of the resettlement administration who came here from Dallas to try to settle the squabble, said construction on the community house would start within a few weeks.

Funds for the house were granted by the resettlement administration, he said. The house will have an auditorium, library, sewing rooms and a kitchen suited for home demonstration.

Caulfield said a suit had been filed in district court asking eviction of H. R. Cox, a homesteader who refused to sign a permanent contract. Caulfield said the case would be set for Nov. 2.

Houston Gardens was started in March, 1935, as the resettlement administration's first project. Later administration was shifted to Houston Homestead Association, an organization composed of residents of the colony, and the residents were asked to sign permanent contracts.

The residents split into two factions over the shift in administration and proposed increases in monthly payments. Thirty-eight residents objected to the shift and refused to sign new contracts. The others called them were entirely satisfied with the change.

Leaders of the dissatisfied group said they welcomed a court test of the change in administration and resettlement.

Man Wounded In Lufkin Gunfight Died Thursday

LUFKIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—J. C. Allee, 34, one of three men wounded in a downtown gun fight Monday, died today.

Physicians said he developed double pneumonia after an operation. The bullet penetrated his liver.

Allee, C. H. Costner, 23, and D. F. Costner, 54, were charged with assault to murder Tuesday. The two Costners were reported recovering from their wounds.

ed to aged Texans. These represented payments for October, which had been delayed for several weeks pending arrival of the federal money.

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The knotty problem of providing new revenue for old age pensions was studied today by both houses of the legislature.

Idle on tax legislation the first part of the special session because revenue measures must originate in the house, the senate state affairs committee wrestled today with an omnibus tax bill estimated to raise $3,000,000.

The house considered a bill to boost taxes on oil from two to five cents a barrel. It had been reported out of committee with a raise of only three-fourths cent.

Representatives of telephone, sulphur, mineral water and state-wide mutual insurance companies and wholesale liquor dealers appeared before the senate committee yesterday.

ATTACK ON TEXAS' GROSS PRODUCTION TAX LAW IS MADE

MATTER BEFORE SUPREME COURT BUT HEAVY DOCKET AHEAD OF SUIT

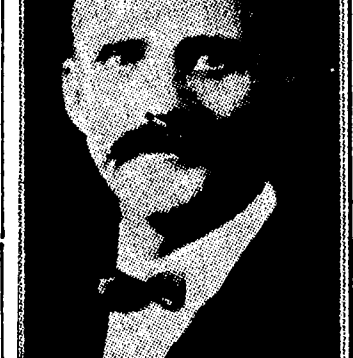

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—An attack on Texas' 2 per cent gross production tax on crude oil was set for hearing by the supreme court today, but as the court convened there was some doubt whether it would be reached on the lengthy docket.

The suit was brought by the estate of Mrs. M. M. Cook who leased a tract of oil land she owned in Shackelford county and was paid, as a royalty, one-eighth of the oil produced. Trustees of the estate attacked the law because, as amended in 1933, it made the royalty owner responsible for one-eighth of the tax—formerly paid by the lease operator.

Attorney General William McCraw and his assistant, W. J. Holt, said Texas' contention was that the royalty owner was "engaged in the business of producing oil" insofar as he shared in the profits and therefore was subject to the tax.

Joseph H. Barwise and George Thompson, Jr., trustees of the estate, attacked the law on the grounds the due process and impairment of contract clauses of the constitution were involved. "It really is an argument that private contracts may have the effect of restraining the right of the states to exercise their taxing powers," McCraw said. "To hold that the contract clause of the constitution contains any such meanings would virtually destroy the taxing powers of the states."

Attorney General William McCraw and his assistant, W. J. Holt, said Texas' contention was that the royalty owner was "engaged in the business of producing oil" insofar as he shared in the profits and therefore was subject to the tax.

Joseph H. Barwise and George Thompson, Jr., trustees of the estate, attacked the law on the grounds the due process and impairment of contract clauses of the constitution were involved.

"It really is an argument that private contracts may have the effect of restraining the right of the states to exercise their taxing powers," McCraw said. "To hold that the contract clause of the constitution contains any such meanings would virtually destroy the taxing powers of the states."

INNOCENT PLEA IS ENTERED BY FRAZIER TO MURDER CHARGE

ONE OF SOUTHWEST'S RANKING GUNMEN ARRAIGNED IN LOUISIANA COURT

ST. FRANCISVILLE, La., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Charlie Frazier, 42, one of the Southwest's ranking gunmen, pleaded innocent today when arraigned on a charge of murdering Captain John A. Singleton of the Louisiana penitentiary in a convict break three years ago.

Judge Charles H. Munson set his trial for October 28. Officers said it would be Frazier's fifth trial for his life.

Frazier, six feet tall and apparently unperturbed, said he had no money to retain an attorney and Judge Munson appointed E. S. Muse to defend him.

Attorney Muse urged the trial be set at a later date to give him more time to prepare a defense, but Judge Munson refused. Muse reserved a bill of exception.

Frazier was recently extradited from the Texas penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence for armed robbery alleged to have been committed after his escape with 10 other convicts from the Louisiana penal farm at Angola.

Frazier was brought to the old West Feliciana court house, packed with people for the arraignment, in an automobile bristling with guns from the Angola farm, where he has been kept in a special cell since being brought back from Texas.

Sheriff T. H. Martin, and Warden L. A. Jones and Captain J. W. Reaux of the penitentiary exercised precaution during his transportation to prevent his escape.

Judge Munson also set the trial of Reuben Moore, negro, accused of murdering another convict, Simon Hardy, at the penal farm a year ago, for the week of October 26.

FROM YOUR KITCHEN.

BEAUTY FROM THE KITCHEN

Today Miss Forbes has some suggestions for cosmetics which you can make up yourself from things around your own house. Try some of these today.

Here are some beauty suggestions which come right out of the kitchen. These things will not take a n y time to make up, and they have also the advantage of being cheap. You might like to try them. You will need cucumbers, tomatoes, horse radish and ordinary sage. During the summer season you can use these luscious berries as a rouge and from the herb shops you can buy elderberries and quince seeds, and from all these and greatly to your charms.

E. K. Forbes as a rouge and from the herb shops you can buy elderberries and quince seeds, and from all these and greatly to your charms. Cucumbers first. These are bleaching, slightly astringent and a good tonic for the skin. You can rub slices of cucumber over the face, hands, neck and arms to get rid of tan, or you can cook the slices in a little water until they form a pulp and you can spread this on the skin, letting it dry on for 20 minutes. A good way to banish summer freckles and tan.

Tomatoes will do the same thing. Save all your tomato skins and any pulp that may be left over from the inside of the tomatoes and rub this all over your skin wherever you want to banish freckles or tan. Let it dry on your face and arms as you work, and then rinse off with cool water. It is especially good for hands stained from housework. If you buy horse radish for sauce you can make an excellent bleach for freckles by shredding an ounce of the root, adding a quarter ounce of powdered boric acid, covering this mixture with boiling water and letting it stand until cold. It is then strained and can be used as often as you want.

To beautify your hair, buy yourself a small bunch of rosemary, break it up, put it in a bowl and cover with about one quart of boiling water. Let it steep there by covering it or by putting it on the back of a warm stove.

Dissolve pure soap flakes in one cupful of this to use as a liquid shampoo and save the rest to put in your final rinse water. Dried or fresh elderberries are delicious in the bath and have a real tonic effect on the skin. Quince seed lotion is good for freckles.

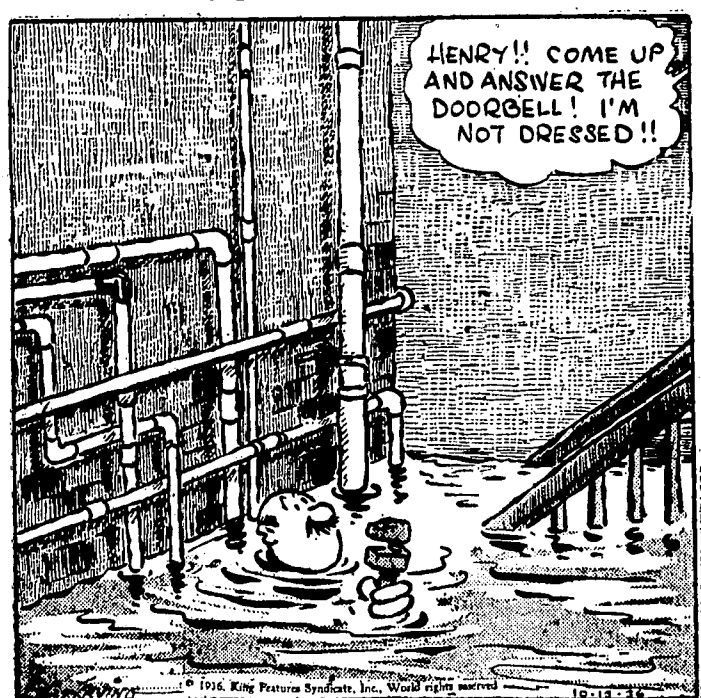

S. G.—If the line between the corner of your mouth and nostril is merely that of a skin line, you will be able to get rid of it by smoothing it. Do this with your finger tips kept moistened with a cream or oil, and keep going over the line in much the same way you would iron a crease out of material. Lines of this kind are only due to unusual dryness of the skin. If there is sagging of the facial muscles, a deeper line, the muscles will have to be built up through massage, or exercise, until they are firm again, when the line will be gone. If you massage, movements should always be upward, even those circular over the cheeks from corners of mouth toward the temples, there will be the upward swirl and lifting movements while working for circulation through the muscles. As the drooping tendency of these muscles imposes upon all those below them, massage or exercise must include the muscles of the throat, from the base of it upward, even those of the chin. Cream or oil have their place, too, as they keep lubricating the skin, and also prevent the finger tips from stretching the skin while working for circulation under it. Conclude any such treatment by giving the skin a thorough douching in very cold water. This has a toning effect, a reaction bringing the blood up to the skin, and it also closes the pores, acting as a mild astringent does to it.
